Access NotesCentre

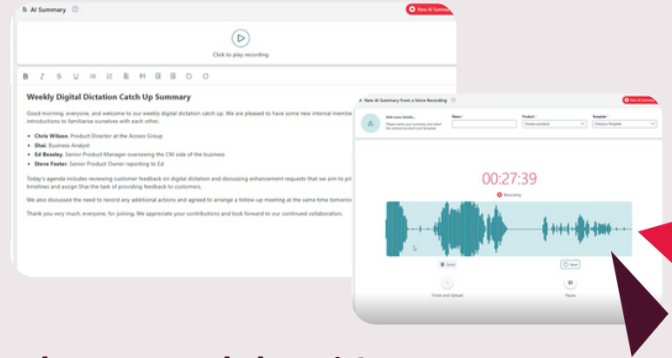

Access NotesCentre is our cutting edge, AI-powered voice dictation solution, designed to significantly reduce the time health and social workers spend manually typing documentations and case notes.

Benefits for the local authority

- Significant cost savings
- Additional social worker capacity
- Better support for vulnerable people
- Increase in staff retention

Benefits for the worker

- Reduction in time spent writing documentation and/or case notes
- More time supporting service users

What's so good about it?

- The only solution that has direct interface with Access Mosaic
- UK based data centre and zero data storage by Microsoft once transcription is processed
- Use via a mobile app or web browser - both enabled with Access Identity to facilitate Single Sign On (SSO) across Access products
- Ability to convert both written and voice notes
- Tailor the AI to your own organisational preferences; including policies, language, tone, jargon and personality
- Receive regular reporting with regards to user activity

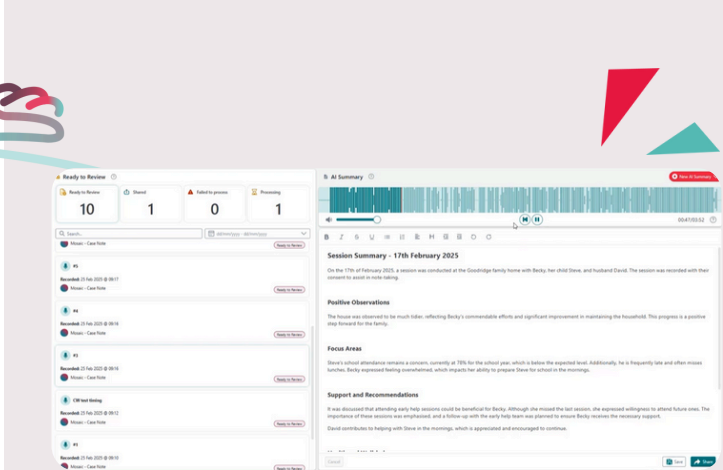

Local Government

We have a dedicated team that have been training our Large Language Model (AI) based on our experiences and data, ensuring we have an accurate solution that understands the nuances of social care.

Using AI as a productivity tool is a sensible and safe first step for any local authority wanting to leverage AI technology in a safe and secure way.

We understand that our customers have different preferences and here at Access, these are accommodated.
